WHAT IS AN ENDOWMENT?

Interest from an endowment supplies scholarships that make college more affordable for all students.

Your gift will become your legacy, as it will remain invested in perpetuity, creating continuous support for student after student at Purdue Fort Wayne.

Your endowment will show that you know the importance of building a strong foundation of future employees, creators, entrepreneurs, and leaders. A better-educated population makes for a more vibrant region—one that keeps people living, working, and thriving right here in northeast Indiana.

COMMITTED TO THE FUTURE

On July 1, 2018, Purdue University Fort Wayne will become the only university in the northeast Indiana region providing a comprehensive, metropolitan, liberal-arts-based higher education. As always, Purdue Fort Wayne is committed to providing as much support as possible for our more than 8,300 degree-seeking students through scholarships, quality academic programs, and faculty. Currently, the university has approximately 200 endowments. To honor this historical time as we transition to a new Purdue Fort Wayne, we aspire to create 25 new endowments, each with at least $25,000, to build an exciting future for decades of students to come!

WHO ARE HOWARD AND BETSY CHAPMAN?

Howard L. Chapman distinguished himself as a lawyer, civic leader, and philanthropist. An accomplished musician and pianist, Elizabeth “Betsy” Waterfield Chapman graduated from IPFW. They served on boards for a number of community and charitable organizations, and in 2007 they endowed the Chapman Scholars Program at IPFW. The Chapmans are committed to the future of Purdue Fort Wayne. In honor of this exciting new time, they have pledged support to build 25 lasting legacies for the endowments.

HOW ENDOWMENTS WORK

For every $25,000 endowment created, Howard and Betsy Chapman will underwrite one-third ($8,333). This means that you can create a named endowment for a total cost of $16,667. You can create your endowment immediately or in up to three years.
