Division of Campus and Community Wellbeing

From Eric Manor, Associate Chief

The new Division of Campus and Community Wellbeing is led by Kerrie Fineran (Chief) and Eric Manor (Associate Chief) and reports to the Chancellor's Office. This new division brings together and builds upon the strong foundation of existing campus resources – including the Center for Student Counseling and The FRIENDS of the University Pantry, both of which now fall under the division's umbrella.

The division is guided by the U.S. Health Promoting Campuses Network and the Okanagan Charter.

The Charter calls on institutions of higher education to embed health into all aspects of campus culture and lead health promotion efforts through action and collaboration at both local and global levels. It also provides a shared framework of language, values, and vision for advancing wellbeing across people, places, and the planet.

In alignment with this vision, the division of Campus and Community Wellbeing will work collaboratively with key stakeholders to develop and implement a shared vision that strengthens institutional support for students, employees, and community wellbeing. It will also be at the forefront of designing innovative programs, services, and initiatives designed to make a meaningful, lasting impact on our campus and the broader region.

We look forward to sharing more in the months ahead as we continue building a healthier, more connected Purdue Fort Wayne.

Resource Highlight: Gartner Campus Access Program

The Gartner Campus Access Program provides current Purdue students, faculty and staff unlimited access to Gartner's IT research library, which helps translate complex IT issues into comprehensive advice and meaningful analysis. Sample topics of interest include generative AI, cybersecurity, technology trends, the Internet of Things (IoT), and more.

If you're interested in technology or want to keep up with the latest research, it's completely free! Learn more about the program in this article. To access the Gartner Campus Access Program as a PFW staff member, visit this link and log in with your goPFW login information.

Benefit Breakdown: Worker's Compensation

Worker's Compensation protects all university employees, including student employees, when they are injured or become ill due to a work-related injury, accident or illness. Worker's Compensation covers employees on university premises as well as travelling on university business.

If you are injured on the job, notify your supervisor right away, even if you do not require medical attention. If your injury is not life threatening, your supervisor will complete a "First Report of Injury and Supervisor's Incident Investigation Form" and contact Amy Jagger in Human Resources for authorization to send you to Parkview Occupational Health for medical treatment. HR will call ahead of your visit to assure Parkview is ready for your visit. If your situation is emergent or after hours, you can go to the emergency room immediately at Parkview Randalia or Parkview Regional Medical Center. If necessary, call 911 for immediate medical assistance.

Employees should not use their personal physician, campus clinic or athletic trainers for a work-related injury, only authorized providers. Treatment through a provider not approved by JWF Specialty, Purdue's Worker's Comp insurance company, may not be covered and you would be responsible for any outstanding balances and bills.

Questions? Contact Amy Jagger in HR at jaggera@pfw.edu or see FAQs on Purdue's website.
