Help Students Turn Connections into Experience

Faculty and staff are encouraged to invite students at every level to attend the PFW Experiential Learning Summit: Connecting Students and Community on Friday, Oct. 30, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Walb Student Union International Ballroom. Through speakers, panels, preprofessional pathways, a networking lunch, and Idea Incubator sessions, students can connect directly with regional organizations and explore internships, research, projects, community partnerships, and other hands-on learning opportunities.

Participating organizations represent a wide range of industries, but students should not limit themselves based on an organization's name or primary focus. Employers are seeking talent across many majors and skill sets, from engineering and accounting to writing, human resources, and graphic design. Encourage your students and interested colleagues to register early; registration will close when all spaces are filled.

Get Help Completing the FAFSA

The Office of Financial Aid will host several FAFSA Completion Nights to help students and families complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid, with the next session scheduled for Sept. 30. These events are open to current students, faculty, and staff who need to complete the FAFSA or assist a student, and members of the greater community. The FAFSA forms for both the current academic year and the 2027–28 academic year are now available, making this a great time to get personalized assistance and complete the application.

Explore What's Next at a Graduate Studies Information Session

An All-Program Graduate Studies Information Session will be held virtually on Thursday, Oct. 1, at 11 a.m. Prospective students will learn about Purdue Fort Wayne's graduate programs, the application process, and opportunities to continue their education. Faculty and staff are encouraged to share this opportunity with students who may be considering graduate school. Program-specific information sessions are also available for those who want to explore individual areas of study in greater detail.
